Rep. Louise Slaughter, along with four other House members who have raised concerns about the Obama Administration's apparent intention to move forward with Bush-era Free Trade Agreements, sent the following letter to the United States Trade Representative. The letter to U.S. Trade Rep. Ron Kirk contends that the pending FTA would have a harmful effect on this country's auto industry and would also expose U.S. corporations to lawsuits from Korean companies.

Rep. Louise Slaughter, along with four other House members who have raised concerns about the Obama Administration's apparent intention to move forward with Bush-era Free Trade Agreements, sent the following letter to the United States Trade Representative.

The letter to U.S. Trade Rep. Ron Kirk contends that the pending FTA would have a harmful effect on this country's auto industry and would also expose U.S. corporations to lawsuits from Korean companies.

Documents

- Letter to Ron Kirk