Hello. I'm Congresswoman Louise Slaughter. Welcome to my website, which has been upgraded to provide you with the very latest information.

Since I represent one of the most high-tech parts of the country, it's important that my website reflect that. I want this to be your website as well, and hope you'll find it both helpful and enlightening. We redesigned the site to make it easier than ever for you to find information important to you, your family, your business, and your community.

You can use links on the site for a variety of purposes, from finding out about federal funding opportunities to getting personal assistance from my office; from learning more about our nation's capital to community activities in western New York. And of course, you'll discover details about the work of the U.S. Congress in general and my legislative efforts in particular.

As you know, information on the Internet flows both ways. Just as you can use this website to learn about my activities in Washington and in the district -- and even sign up for my regular electronic newsletter -- you can also let me know what's on your mind. I hope you'll be in touch on any matter that's of major concern to you.

Thank you for visiting my website. You may also preview my welcome video by simply clicking here. I hope you like it and that you'll return soon and often.
